

INVESTIGATIVE TASK TEAM

The Umbabat Private Nature Reserve (of which Ingwelala is a member) undertook a lion hunt which was concluded on the 7th June 2018.

Following the shooting of a male lion, the photos presented at the Nkorho Board Meeting on the 11th June 2018, to verify the identity of the particular lion, were inconclusive.

Following extensive talks with concerned members, the Ingwelala Board agrees that it is imperative that the identity of the male lion be established. Accordingly it has mandated an Investigative Task Team to identify the lion.

The task team will compromise of;

- Brian Cilliers: Ingwelala Board member,
- Christopher Gregory: Ingwelala Board Member.
- Gavin Maile: Ingwelala Board Member,
- Belinda Scott: Ingwelala Board Member,
- Charl du Plessis : Ingwelala Board Member,
- Chad Cocking: Ingwelala Member, Independent Consultant. Chad has extensive knowledge of the lion prides in the area
- Chris Thorpe: Ingwelala concerned Member

The Ingwelala Board of Directors would like to assure all members that we are doing everything to seek positive closure in this matter. We will continue to keep you updated in this regard.
